

Swing Trading Bulletin

Week 186,
Market Close,
7th Dec. 2007

NOTE: "SQ" is a market timing system for contrarian "swing traders" (2 weeks to 4 months). It is 100% sentiment and probability based. A unique process of "scoring" various sentiment input indicators derives a bullish probability for the market - SQ. This activates the trading model (above right) at certain trigger points.

Commentary

The market kept on recovering as the recent spike in negative sentiment continued to unwind. This was reflected in the model moving back towards neutrality at 53%. It is interesting how the time-horizon of moves in sentiment can vary: "short sharp shocks" triggered by external events sometimes, compared to longer build-ups at others. We remain in cash.

Trading Model Rules

All trades are against the NASDAQ Composite and executed either:

- Against the coming week's opening level of the Composite index.
- Via limit/stop orders at a specified level as described in the prior week's report.

Zero transaction/trading costs assumed and no spread. No interest on cash balances. All stop and limit orders entered at the next market open on a "good until cancelled" basis; specified order levels correspond to the NASDAQ Composite. Cancellation can take place only within a report such as this. All trades executed at closest exact level (no fractions).
